

SORBET LIVING

SPRING 2026

SORBET LIVING

The everyday table

where homegrown living begins. Unfussy, pared back and quietly considered, designed for daily rituals rather than special occasions. It's about creating space for connection - midweek meals, morning coffee, impromptu suppers - where nothing feels staged, yet everything feels intentional.

SORBET LIVING

As spring unfolds,

the table softens and brightens in step with the season. For Easter lunches and Mother's Day gatherings, we lean into gentle colour, layered textures and subtle nods to nature. Fresh linens, handmade ceramics and delicate glassware come together with seasonal stems and simple place settings.

“When you choose to belong to a place - whether where you grew up, where you landed, or simply where you are right now - all kinds of things take root and flourish.”

SORBET LIVING

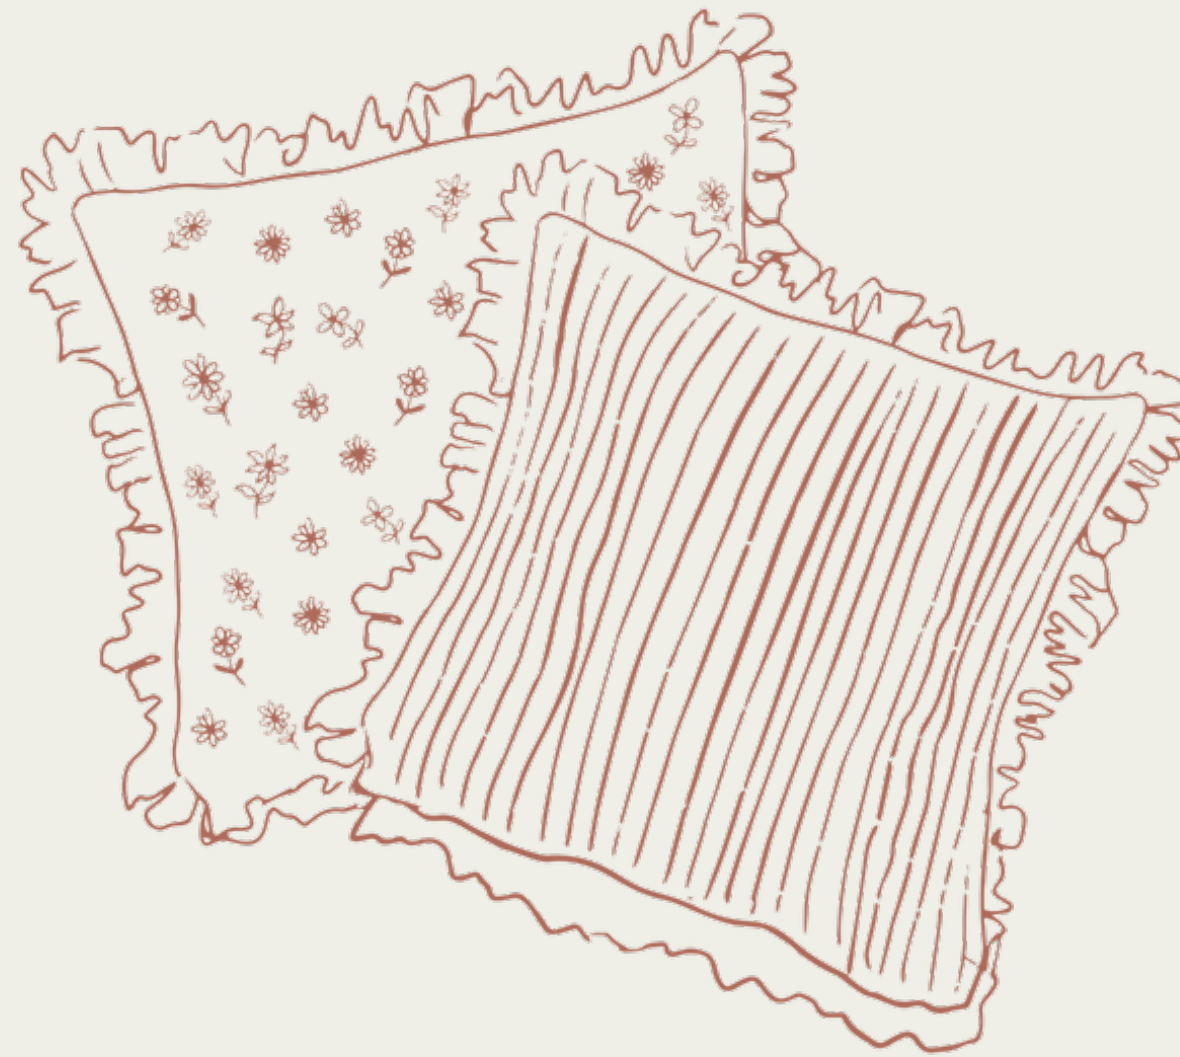

It begins with a basket

Handwoven and practical, it moves effortlessly from garden to kitchen, gathering freshly picked produce before finding its place in the pantry. These everyday pieces support a slower rhythm of living - where food is washed, stored and prepared with care. It's about embracing the journey from soil to shelf, and the quiet satisfaction found in objects that earn their place through use.

SORBET LIVING

A place to land

Home textiles bring softness and ease to the spaces we inhabit most - whether that's a much loved chair, window nook or bed. Our latest additions in gentle, washed tones add comfort without formality, inviting rooms to be lived in. These are pieces designed to be moved, rearranged and enjoyed daily, adding warmth and tactility to a home shaped by comfort, craft and quiet consideration.
